GAP

Wants an answer the moment she needs one

The trigger: a strong belief breaks against reality

Astrologer consult

01 Losing a relationship

She will not go back to what she had. Two things block her: finding someone actually compatible, and the suspicion that something in her is blocking the relationship.

02 Losing a job

This generation wants purpose, not just money. They want to feel valued, but often struggle with people-pleasing and giving too much.

03 Discovering it made no sense

What she wanted stops making sense. She followed the script and found the life underneath it empty.

She knows something is wrong. She cannot say what.

AND WHAT SHE IS LOOKING FOR, NONE OF IT A FORECAST

PURPOSE

Self-knowledge, more than prediction

Tarot generates fear; astrology generates curiosity. That gap is the whole category.

COMFORT

To feel understood and held

The people no longer understand her. What holds her is the spiritual explanation.

ELABORATION

To put into words what is happening

She cannot say what is bothering her. Afterwards: "there were things I felt but could not explain."

ESSENCE

Permission to go back to her essence

"I am tired of repressing myself. I want to make choices for me, not for the crowd."

Adulthood lands

- The choices she already made stop feeling like hers. "They are not filling me."
- She is afraid she picked the wrong life and it is now too late to redo it.
- Nothing in the practical world answers her, so the spiritual explanation is what's happening..
- By 28 she is already paying someone: an astrologer, a therapist or a tarot reader.

The wall

- The window on children is closing and she knows it. "Will there still be time?"
- Her standards rose after a toxic history, which leaves fewer candidates, not more.
- Her career is stable, so the gap in her life is the part money cannot fix.

The turn

- She got what she aimed for and it did not deliver. "I want to contribute differently."
- The children are raised, so the role that organised her days is gone.
- Money is solved and purpose is not, which is the harder of the two.
- She buys the whole shelf looking for it: retreats, spas, apps.

TWO MOMENTS THAT MATTER

Year end and New Year — the peak

The most searched moment of the year: the ruling planet, the colour of the year, "how will it be for {sign}".

First thing in the morning — the habit

She reads apps in the morning for direction for the day. This is what turns a purchase into a routine.

What makes her decide — and stay

WHAT SOMEONE WHO CLOSES A SESSION FINDS

01 Assistance

Someone takes her by the hand. She has already tried reading a chart alone, and what she wants now is to be guided through it.

02 Experience

She wants the session to relax and living an experience.
The reading is only part of it.

03 Welcome

The place receives her as she is. She spent the whole rupture being judged by people who knew the old version of her.

04 Time

There is room to talk and nothing is rushed. A fast answer tells her she was processed, however correct it was.

UNDERNEATH ALL FOUR

She wants a place where she can be who she wanted to be.

Key takeaways

Pew · Gallup · Harris
IBISWorld · consult

1. Room to grow: the top competitor in the category makes $127M a year.
2. 27% of adults believe in astrology: it goes up to 43% among women and LGBT people, our best audience.
3. People look for astrology for self-knowledge, relationships and career: they feel lost in these areas and they want direction.
4. 17% of the believers already pay a high price for a consultation: the audience we need to reach.
5. Common problems: finding a relationship, losing a job, or achieving something and not seeing the point of it.
6. App ideas: compatibility, emotional blocks, discover your talents, and attraction through musical frequency.
7. It takes from 2 weeks to 2 years to act after a problem: but as we will see later, many people look for this even without an obvious complaint.

What stands out — Auraly

Auraly
859 reviews

1 It knew me

"Precise" is the most repeated word of praise: 12.3% of all reviews, 1.3× the market. They are thanking it for getting them right, not for predicting anything.

> "Positive experience with truth. I am a skeptic but this reading hit home."

2 Somewhere to be heard

6.3% describe being listened to without judgement. The comparison they reach for is therapy.

> "Just able to talk freely. It felt like therapy. Thank you."

3 A decision, unstuck

Clarity and guidance is the second largest theme at 16.4%. People arrive stuck and leave having decided something.

> "The reading truly hit home and the guidance is really helpful."

4 The soulmate sketch

Praised in 6.1% of reviews, more than trust or price. No competitor offers anything like it, so it is the one thing only Auraly gets thanked for.

> "You have brought a face to my heart."

5 The sceptic who stayed

5.4% say the reading felt real rather than generic. The most persuasive reviews open by admitting doubt, then concede.

> "Just felt true not made up plus got a lovely vibe."
